Abstract

CINEPLEX is a responsive web-based Application that will provide the user to access different movies and their schedule online. Now a days, it is very common for people to try and achieve their desired goals from home rather than visit a special place such as cinema to book the tickets. People prefer online resources to view the current screening movies and book their tickets online to save time. Cineplex will help the user to view movies and book tickets for the movie that they want to watch from home. This will also be helpful for the user as the cineplex will save the history of the user booked tickets in database.

Introduction

The web-based cinema management system, CINEPLEX provides maximum functionalities of a cinema on an online platform. Now a days, people want to get everything online in order to save the time and hassle of going to a specific cinema to get the required tickets for the movies. With that in mind, I am developing the online Cinema Application that will allow the user to access the desired movies and tickets on an online platform. Using this online platform, the user can also keep track of the tickets he has booked and can also view and edit his profile as he desires.

Scope

The CINEPLEX provides the user an easy access to the movies that are being screened in the cinemas. As the Application is responsive and user-friendly, the user can use it on either computers or their own mobile phones. It will have two (2) main users:

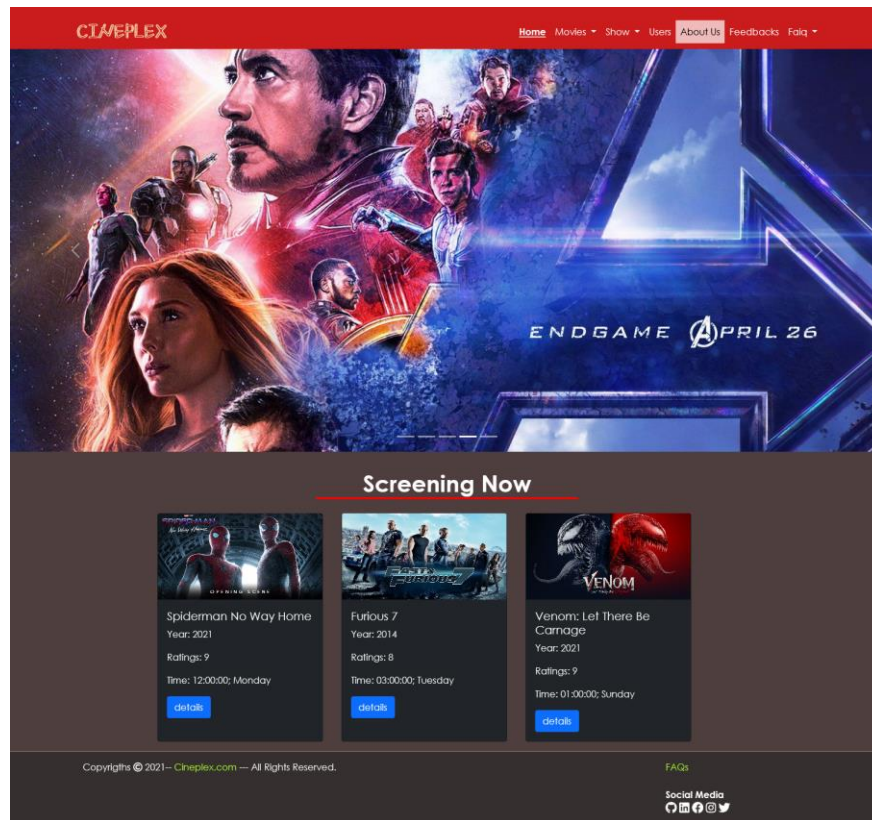

- Admin
- Users

The Application will provide admin with the feature to add, update and delete movies alongside the scheduling of the movies. The admin will also have the feature to view the users registered in the application. The admin can also view the user's feedback to further better the working of the website.

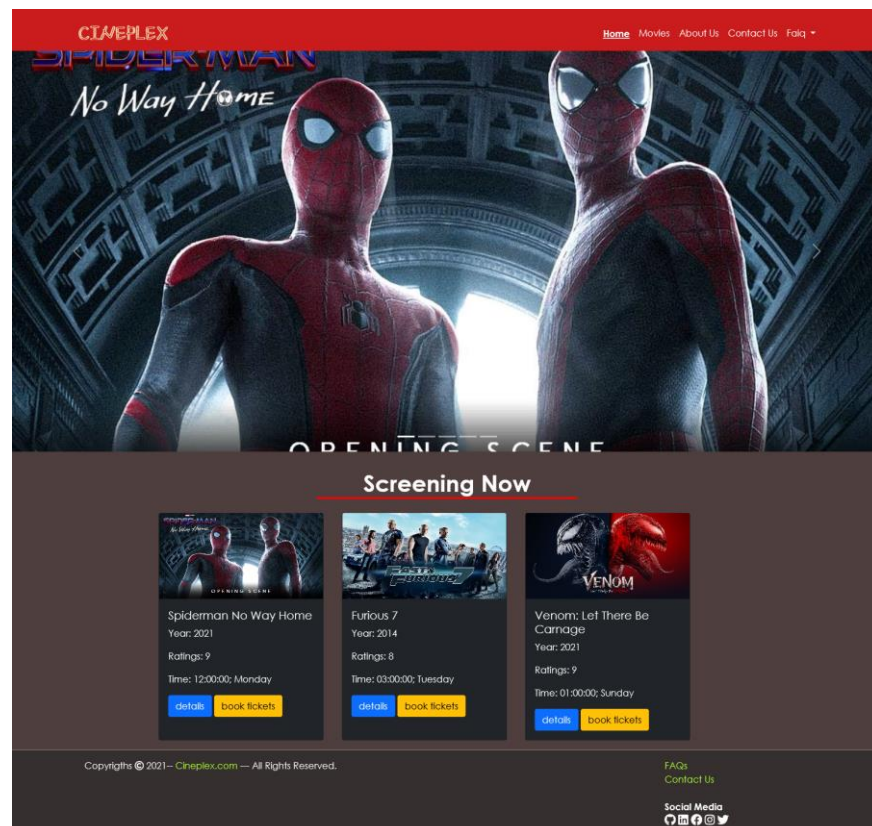

The Application provides the users register and login to the website. After logging in the user can view the movies alongside their description and book tickets for the movies. The application will also provide the user the access to the view, edit their own profile.
